In Case No. 2012-0696, In the Matter of Marcus J. Hampers and Kristin C. Hampers, the court on July 24, 2014, issued the following order:

The slip opinion issued in this case on June 24, 2014, is hereby modified as follows:

1. In the ninth and tenth lines of the second full paragraph on page 2 of the slip opinion, the citation “Id. (brackets and ellipsis omitted).” is deleted and replaced by the following: “Id. (brackets, ellipsis, and quotation omitted).”

2. In the last line of the second full paragraph on page 2 of the slip opinion, the citation “Id. at 289-90.” is deleted and replaced by the following: “Id. at 290 (quotation omitted).”

3. The third full paragraph on page 2 of the slip opinion, which begins with the phrase “We affirmed the order requiring the husband to pay . . . .” is deleted and replaced by the following paragraph:

We left undisturbed the attorney’s fees that the wife had already incurred and the husband had already paid. Id. at 290-91. However, we vacated the award of attorney’s fees that the wife had incurred, but the husband had not yet paid, and remanded to the trial court to determine the reasonableness of those fees pursuant to the procedure we set out in Gosselin v. Gosselin, 136 N.H. 350, 353-54 (1992). Id. at 291. We further held that the Gosselin procedure would apply to any attorney’s fees the wife incurred in the future. Id. We declined to address the husband’s constitutional arguments because he did not demonstrate that he had preserved them for our review. Id.

Slip opinion modified.

DALIANIS, C.J., and CONBOY and LYNN, JJ., concurred.
